

A BRIGHT PROSPECT

For American Manufactures in South American Markets.

MR. HART, ENVOY TO COLOMBIA.

Tells of the Interest Being Awakened Among American Manufacturers in the Latin-American Countries—His Leave from Wheeling and the Intelligence with Feelings of Regret, but Goes to His Post of Duty with Hope and Confidence.

Mr. Hart and his family leave this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, via the Baltimore & Ohio, for New York, en route to Bogota, Colombia. Mr. Hart takes with him his wife, his son, his elder sister and Charles Williams, a colored servant. He sails from New York on Saturday of this week, by the steamship "Allegheny," of the Atlas line.

To a reporter of the Intelligencer he said last evening, that notwithstanding the close study he has given of the possible field for American manufacturers in Latin America, he was very much more impressed with the subject during his visit last week to Philadelphia, to be present at the opening of the Commercial Museum. That great institution, occupying about half a block of ground, the old Pennsylvania railroad offices, is filled with all that interests American manufacturers or other business men having or seeking commercial relations with Latin America. For example, if one desires to know about the hard woods of that vast region, there they are, properly classified and labeled and he goes right to the thing he wants. Then there are all the wools of the world, from Ohio county to Port Phillip, and all so arranged as to be easily within reach. If a merchant or manufacturer desires to know anything within the great scope of this institution's work, there it is, and easy to get at. The system of filing information and of reaching it by cross records is simply perfect.

Interested in Colombia.

"I was very much gratified," said Mr. Hart, "to find that our manufacturers are not only looking to Latin America as the most hopeful outlet for their products, but they are looking more to Colombia than to any other part of it. I believe I could have spent a month in Philadelphia conversing with manufacturers on this subject if I had had the time. They are keen for the business, and keen to talk about it. Some of their sons are preparing now to go out. Two of them called on me who will be in Bogota within three months. As soon as they can make themselves familiar with the Spanish language, they will endeavor to market the products of the concerns they represent. For a young man, equipped for the work and having something back of him when he goes, I think the field very promising, although, of course, I speak only at second hand from my reading and from my conversation with well-informed persons who have been in the country and know it well."

"Closely related to this subject is the Industrial Art School, at Philadelphia, an institution which I visited with the deepest interest. It had not been in existence many years, and was amazed at its growth. The young men and young women are instructed in the industrial arts. For example, a student takes the wool in the rough, dyes it, and carries it through every process until he brings out the completed fabric. Then there is designing, modelling, everything that relates to artistic skill in designing and in manufacturing. This institution as it stands to-day, is largely the child of Mr. Theodore C. Search, president of the National Association of American Manufacturers, a man who thinks and acts, a really great man, the product of our American commercial life, and certainly a most worthy representative thereof. Germany, France and England have accomplished very much with schools of this character. In this respect Germany stands first, France second, and England third. The growth of the export trade of these countries is traceable in very large degree to the educated products of these institutions. And, by the way, it should please every American to know that the school in Philadelphia of which I am speaking, is admitted to be far ahead of the South Kensington Museum, in England, of which we hear so much. I advise anybody interested in such matters to visit the school in Philadelphia. It is on Broad street, just below the Academy of Music, occupying the buildings formerly used by the deaf, dumb and blind asylum. The graduates of this institution are taking useful and profitable positions, and through their work shall hear still more of its good work. But this is a subject on which we might talk indefinitely."

Leaves Home with Regret.

"There is not much to say about my going, except that I cannot lay aside, even temporarily, the editorship of the Intelligencer without much regret. My association of fifteen years with this newspaper, and through the newspaper with those who read it, has given me friendships in many a household in West Virginia. Of this fact I have had the most abundant, and in some cases touching, testimony in the past few days. As I cannot take every good friend by the hand, perhaps the Intelligencer will let me say through its columns, that while absent from West Virginia, I shall not cease to love it and its people, by whom I have been treated with much more than ordinary kindness and consideration. I have endeavored to make acknowledgement of the many letters and telegrams of congratulation that have reached me, but if in the rush of business and by reason of my absence from the city the past week, I shall have overlooked any, I beg my friends to give me credit for such, and to consider that I look forward with pleasure to returning to my Wheeling home and resuming once more my work in this community."

"If anybody thinks enough of me to wish to let me know that he is still alive, all that he has to do is to put a five-cent American stamp on his letter, address it to me at the Legation of the United States, Bogota, Colombia, and in about thirty days he may be sure that his thoughtfulness has given me great pleasure."

"God bless West Virginia and all West Virginians."

MANY CONGRATULATIONS

From Warm Friends Received by Mr. Hart. Minister Charles Burdett Hart has received, during the past few days, a large number of letters of congratulations from every part of the state and country, on his appointment to the Colombian mission. In addition to those already quoted from in the Intelligencer, and among these are recently received, are the following, from which brief extracts are made: Mr. A. W. Campbell, St. Louis:—"I presume you will take the Monroe doctrine along as part of your outfit, and go our old friend Baker at least one better in keeping the Wheeling name before the South American world."

Dr. Alonso Garnett, Shoshone, W. Va.:—"I am sure the appointment could not have been bestowed upon a more worthy Republican, or one who could more ably represent American institutions abroad."

Ex-United States Marshall White, Matamoras:—"I am sure you deserve well of the administration, as well as of the party generally."

Colonel R. E. Fast, Morgantown:—"Knowing me, you must know that your success is highly pleasing to one who has had the pleasure of a right intimate acquaintance with you. I trust that you may derive from your official position the peculiar gratifications of action and pleasure which you may anticipate."

Philip Goodwill, of the Goodwill Coal and Coke Company:—"Please accept my hearty congratulations in your well merited appointment."

General Manager George A. Bart, of the Ohio River Railroad Company:—"It is gratifying for me to know that the administration realizes what I may call its indebtedness for the earnest endeavors you made, which contributed so largely to bring about the result of the defeat of Bryan."

Mr. O. C. Dewey:—"My sincere and heartfelt congratulations on your appointment."

James A. Henderson, manager, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet Line, Pittsburgh:—"Allow me to wish you success and prosperity in your new role. We have only one regret, and that is, the fact that river interests are losing a good friend and ardent worker in behalf of anything tending to improve our water ways."

Frederic Emory, Chief Bureau of Statistics State Department, Washington:—"As the editor of the consular and other commercial reports of this department, I rejoice at the appointment of every trained newspaper man in either branch of the service."

Hon. Thomas E. Davis, Grafton:—"I sincerely hope you may succeed in your new field of labor and responsibility."

Congressman Dorr:—"Please accept my hearty congratulations."

Speaker S. R. Hansen, of the house of delegates:—"I feel assured you will do honor to your state and party."

Hon. James A. Woodward, Charleston:—"Allow me to congratulate you."

Hon. Lewis Bennett, Weston:—"Accept full congratulations."

Judge W. G. Bennett, Weston:—"Accept my congratulations. I am sincerely pleased."

Supreme Judge Henry Brannon:—"I offer my warm congratulations. I was indeed glad to hear of it."

W. W. Beach, U. S. Treasury department:—"I beg to congratulate you most heartily and wish you every success in your new post of honor."

Ex-Congressman Charles E. Coffin, of Maryland:—"We hope you will enjoy your residence abroad, and feel certain the President has made a wise selection."

J. William Gilkison, South Branch National Bank, Moorefield:—"Allow me to congratulate you. I hope that you may return to your native land in health and with the satisfaction of duty well performed."

W. T. W. Barbe, of the University:—"I do not need to tell you that the news gave me very great pleasure."

Lewis M. Haupt, chairman Colombia-Causa arbitration commission, Philadelphia:—"Permit me to add that on April 28, in writing to the assistant secretary of state, Judge Day, concerning our diplomatic service and its influence on our commerce I said: 'We believe that the best service our country demands is a total change, and that Charles Burdett Hart, well known here as a thoroughly honorable gentleman, and now of West Virginia, would make a very satisfactory minister.'"

Rev. Dr. R. R. Swope, Baltimore, N. C.:—"I hasten to extend my congratulations and hope that you will have a delightful time in your new home."

George W. Patton, Charleston:—"Please accept congratulations. Your friends here are delighted."

Among the many others from whom similar expressions have been received, are E. M. Gilkison, Parkersburg; Frank G. Gessner, Washington, D. C.; Edgar Stewart, Morgantown; Rev. and Mrs. M. W. Rider, Dallas, W. Va.; G. O. M. W. Rider, Wheeling; Henry Kripphahn, Wheeling; Marilla M. Ricker, Charleston; Z. E. Davidson, Wilsonburg, W. Va.; Hon. A. G. Hughes, Frenchton, and others.

ABOUT P. O. LE

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

A party of Standard Oil officials were in Wheeling last evening, en route to Pittsburgh. In the party were the following: John D. Archibald, vice president of the Standard; James Seep, of the Seep Purchasing Agency; C. N. Payne, president of the National Transit Company; H. H. Rogers, president of the Ohio River Railroad Company and a prominent Standard official; W. E. Clark, superintendent of the Buckeye Pipe Line Company; H. L. Scraftford, superintendent of the Buckeye Pipe Line Company; Glenn J. Braden, vice president of the South Penn (Standard) Oil Company, and others. They came up from Sistersville, having made the trip between Mannington and Sistersville, through the rich West Virginia field overland. It was their annual trip of inspection, and the officials expressed themselves as pleased with the condition in which they found their interests.

Miss Maud Harrington, of Franklin, is a guest of the Howell.

John R. Tolar, Jr., and P. B. Cochran were Bethany students in the city yesterday.

J. S. Ward and Miss Lizzie Melody, are registered from Sistersville at the Stamm.

Robert Allan, of Monroe county, O., is visiting his brother, Charles Allan, of the postoffice.

William W. Keller, a merchant tailor of Tyler's metropolis, registered at the McClure yesterday.

Frank Colbert, of the Sistersville oil well and supply company, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

Clint Moore, a king bee among Sistersville oil men, left his autograph with the McClure yesterday.

C. W. Hiteshaw, C. C. Woodyard, and George W. Summers were three Parkersburgers at the McClure yesterday.

A. F. Allan Brown, Parkersburg; D. E. Radford and Mark Miller, Sistersville, appear on the McClure's register.

MEETS TO-MORROW.

Belmont Republicans to Hold Their County Convention.

HOWARD IS TO BE RENOMINATED

For Representative Without Opposition, but for the Second Nomination, there is a Lively Contest, in which Armstrong seems to be in the Lead—Convention Meets at Belmont—Details of the Primaries Held Throughout the County.

The Belmont Republican county convention will meet at Belmont to-morrow to nominate two candidates for the Ohio legislature and a county ticket, treasurer, commissioner, infirmity director and coroner. Hon. Charles J. Howard, of Barnesville, will be renominated for representative and the indications now are that E. B. Armstrong, a representative farmer, will succeed to the place made vacant by the selection of Hon. J. E. Blackburn, as state food commissioner, though C. C. Carroll, of St. Clairsville, a splendid young man, has a good following and in the contest at home secured the delegates there against A. H. Mitchell.

For the other offices it would be more guessing to attempt any indication of the result. Mr. Bergendahl, the Bellaire candidate for treasurer, will have a good following, so will Mr. McGregor, the Mend township candidate, and John T. Hayes, the present deputy will not be as strong as seemed probable all through the preliminary canvass, while E. F. Barnes and Joseph N. Carle are stragglers in the contest for this place. But the convention will have good men to select from all the way through and Belmont county Republicans can be depended upon to do the proper thing in making up a ticket this year, when it is important to have the most available as well as capable men.

BELMONT PRIMARIES

Held Saturday with a Large Vote and Great Interest in all Parts of the County—Detail of the Result.

On Saturday afternoon the Republicans of Belmont county held their primary election for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county convention, to be held at Belmont to-morrow to the senatorial convention and members of the county committee. All over the county the primaries were well attended and great interest was shown in the several anti-convention contests. There seems to be a general desire on all sides for a strong ticket at the coming fall election and this desire will be in evidence when the county convention assembles on Tuesday at Belmont.

At Bellaire.

The Republican primaries in Bellaire Saturday evening resulted in the selection of a solid delegation for W. C. Bergendahl for county treasurer. In fact there was not much of a contest anywhere in the city and Mr. Lancaster was earnestly for the home man. Mr. McGregor carried the township precinct and there was no contest at all in West Wheeling. The delegates elected to both the county and senatorial conventions were those printed in this column last Saturday. The city committee elected were W. E. Heslop, George Praht, Hunter S. Armstrong, Henry W. Bahr, Charles W. Lancaster and William J. Carson.

In Martin's Ferry.

The Republican primaries in Martin's Ferry on Saturday were largely attended. There were contests in all of the wards except the Fourth. The result in the city was as follows:

First ward—County delegates, Thomas D. Edmunds and William H. Jones; alternates, Roger Reece and Harry Romick; senatorial delegates, Charles Koehnline and John A. Moore; alternates, Al. Davis and David Lewis; central committeeman, Edward Parsons.

Third ward—County delegates, Geo. W. Tweedy, J. C. Gray, George G. Sedgwick; alternates, Edward Bashar, Aug. Koehrsen, Charles Graham; senatorial, E. E. McComb, George G. Ralston, C. H. Carpenter; alternates, William Johnson, John Beasley, William J. Duff; central committeeman, George W. Tweedy.

Fourth ward—County delegates, S. Hipkins, Fred Stricklin; alternates, Thomas Williams, William Soldheld; senatorial, Samuel Westwood, R. F. Allender; alternates, James Tannehill, S. G. Robinson; central committeeman, Samuel Westwood.

Fifth ward—County delegates, Walter Kline, Daniel Woods; alternates, Howard Selby, George Mui; senatorial, Walter Kline and Daniel Woods; alternates, E. A. Padelford and Ed. McAninch; central committeeman, John Fisher.

Martin's Ferry precinct—County delegates, William S. Ellifritz; alternate, Parrott Jump; senatorial, George W. Webb; alternate, F. A. Sedgwick; central committeeman, George W. Webb.

At Barnesville.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

BAKESVILLE, Ohio, June 6.—In the election of the eleven delegates here to the county convention, there was no contest, simply in the interests of the re-nomination of Hon. C. J. Howard, as one of the two legislative candidates and the making of a ticket strong, harmonious and well divided. In the election of the nine senatorial delegates there was a contest between William H. Hunt, of St. Clairsville, and Frank B. Archer, of Bellaire. Mr. Archer winning seven of them by very decisive majorities and losing two by three votes.

At St. Clairsville.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., June 6.—The Republican primaries here Saturday, were hotly contested, delegates being in the field for the two local candidates for representative, C. C. Carroll and A. H. Mitchell. In precinct No. 1, Carroll delegates were chosen by a majority of one vote out of a large poll. In precincts Nos. 2 and 3 the Carroll men won by majorities respectively of twenty-five and forty-three.

In Goshen township the contest was over treasurer; Hayes elected four delegates and Barnes two. Barnes elected four in Union township and Hayes four in Wheeling township. Kirkwood and Flushing townships will send delegations divided as to choice for treasurer and representative. Colerain township sends five delegates instructed for Brown for commissioner.

Assembly Endorses Two. At the meeting of the Belmont Trades Assembly yesterday the legislative committee was instructed to select two men as labor candidates for the legislature, one from each party. The Republican candidate is to be submitted to the Belmont county Republican convention, to be held at Belmont, to-morrow. The name of the Democratic candidate is to be submitted to the Democratic convention, to be held at Bellaire. The legislative committee selected David Llewellyn, of Martin's Ferry, for the Republicans, and John A. Campbell, of Bellaire, for the Democrats. Mr. Llewellyn is an employee of the Astra Amalgamated Association and has served for the past six years on the conference committee.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Matters of Minor Moment in and About the City.

At the Wheeling Park Casino, to-night—The Lyric Opera Company in "Fra Diavolo."

The parochial school of the St. Alphonsus church will give a picnic at the State Fair grounds on June 29.

Council committees on fire department, accounts and ordinances are called to meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Superintendent Griffith, of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, made a special trip to Bellaire in his private car yesterday, an unusual occurrence for Sunday.

Rev. J. de Q. Donohoe, rector of Trinity church, Marshall, Mo., now visiting his parents at New Cumberland, conducted the services at St. Matthew's P. E. church yesterday.

The Germania Hall Association has decided to celebrate the Fourth of July on Saturday, July 2, at the State Fair grounds, and the event promises to be one of the most successful ever held there.

While down the river near Moundsville yesterday, in search of a suitable location for a camp, John McAdams and Harry Travis were thrown from their buggy by the sudden start of their horse. Travis was hurt somewhat by the fall.

Yesterday was the thirty-eighth anniversary of the most destructive frost that ever occurred in June. Many old residents and readers of the Intelligencer will remember the famous frost of June, 1859. Farmers were compelled to replant corn and all garden truck was wiped out of existence.

At the civil service examination held Saturday, for the grades of letter carrier and postal clerk, the following stood: W. H. Bone, John H. Gillespie, Scott N. Taylor, Walter Moore, Isaac Thornton, Alan H. Robinson, Eugene M. Hildreth, Lorenzo B. Walker, Fred W. Brown and Nan M. Wilson.

At a meeting of the Ohio County Bar Association held Saturday at noon, resolutions of respect for the late Dennis O'Keefe were passed, having been drafted by Mr. John A. Howard. A committee to arrange for the funeral was named, composed of Messrs. L. S. Jordan, C. P. Flick and F. C. Cox. The bar will attend the funeral, which is to occur this morning, at 8:30 o'clock.

At a meeting held Saturday afternoon at Duff's hall, South Side, the Belmont plate mill employees decided to resist the reduction proposed by the management. The cut is to go into effect to-day, and the action of the men in refusing to accept it, means they will strike. There are probably one hundred men affected by the cut, which is said to be ten per cent, although a few claim it is more. The men are not organized. The company will likely shut down the mill if the men persist in refusing to accept.

WANTED IN WASHINGTON.

Two Serious Charges Against James Stroinsider in Washington City.

James H. Stroinsider, recently before a United States commissioner here upon a charge preferred by a Washington detective agency, is wanted in Washington upon the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. It is alleged that Stroinsider approached a man named McCann, of Washington City, whose classmate he was at Washington, Pennsylvania, and convinced him that he had a "dead sure" thing of winning the stakes in a foot race soon to take place between himself and another sprinter, and induced McCann to lend him $250. He also, it is said, persuaded his friend to permit him to wear a diamond ring, in order to "look the part." The arrangements for the race, so confident was Stroinsider of winning, the wager that he sought to persuade his friend to let him have $1,000, and it is said that McCann, who had been well acquainted with Stroinsider in college days, would have willingly parted with that amount, had he been in funds.

Stroinsider is also charged with obtaining a bicycle and $25 from a woman at Washington, and with the understanding he had the wheel in his possession at Moundsville when arrested.

Reception to New Members.

Yesterday was a great day in the North street M. E. church. The forenoon service was a reception of new members. The hymns were selected appropriate to the occasion and sung with the spirit and the understanding not only by the choir but by the congregation. The pastor, Rev. C. B. Graham, delivered a discourse on "Christian Manhood," giving the Christian's defensive position, his steadfast character and his aggressive attitude as essential to perfecting of Christian manhood. Twelve adults bowed at the baptismal altar, which was supplied profusely with beautiful flowers by the King's Daughters of the church. A circle of thirty-eight then took upon themselves the vows of the church and received a royal welcome. Judge H. C. and Mrs. McWhorter took active part in the services and their presence was greatly enjoyed.
